DocsPlus provides the support your struggling students need to tackle writing tasks for the secondary curriculum.

If a student qualifies for additional access arrangements in exams, they can use DocsPlus, saving time and money that would otherwise be spent on scribes and readers. This also enables them to participate more independently.

Our tutorials are a great place to find out more about the different features available.

"We primarily use DocsPlus instead of human readers for exams. This gives students far greater independence and saved us 300 hours of staff time in the first year alone."

"DocsPlus offers so many benefits, but sometimes it's the simplest things that make the most impact..."
