About the Course

The quality of a school's spiritual, moral, social and cultural (SMSC) development is central to its ethos. Its importance is emphasised in the new Ofsted framework, 2019. This half-day course, led by qualified and experienced teacher-advisors, balances input with reflection and interactivity and guides participants in developing SMSC and meeting requirements for British values in their own school context. The course is fully updated for the Ofsted changes for 2019

Outcomes

At the end of the course participants will:

- Have a clear understanding of what SMSC development and British values look like in a school
- Be aware of Ofsted inspection and DfE expectations in this area
- Be equipped with the knowledge needed to create and implement a whole school strategy and curriculum approaches for SMSC and British values
- Understand how to evidence and evaluate the impact of SMSC
- Take home a number of resources which exemplify SMSC and British values development, as well as the 'TLN SMSC Toolkit & Audit' and a PowerPoint for a staff meeting to disseminate the learning, available exclusively to course delegates

Who is it for?

The course is aimed at headteachers and senior and middle leaders leading on SMSC British values. The course is subsidised for all schools in the Bradford district but is available to colleagues from out of district.

How to book

Book online at www.thelinkingnetwork.org.uk, email lyn.jones@thelinkingnetwork.org.uk or phone 01274 439248, stating name, role in school, contact details, and dietary or other requirements for the delegate.

"The advisor knowledge is amazing and the session covered everything using a variety of activities and information. The resources were excellent and ongoing support was offered. This has been the best CPD I have ever attended." Rachel Williams, Teacher, The Academy, Selsey
